

shared by other Indigenous and native peoples and marginalised populations in high-income countries (eg, Roma, immigrants, and foreign workers). In societies that have expressed a commitment to universal health insurance and health equity, it is precisely these marginalised populations that are not inconsequential. Indeed, they represent the true litmus test of whether or not these commitments have been achieved.

I declare no competing interests.

Department of Error

Smolen JS, Aletaha D, McInnes IB. Rheumatoid arthritis. Lancet 2016; 388: 2023–38—In this Seminar, there were errors in the colouring of risk loci in figure 1, cytokines in figure 3, and arrows in figure 4, and errors in the cutpoints for measures of disease activity in table 1, introduced during the editing process. These corrections have been made to the online version as of Jun 10, 2016, and the printed Seminar is correct.

Goette A, Merino JL, Ezekowitz MD, et al. Edoxaban versus enoxaparin-warfarin in patients undergoing cardioversion of atrial fibrillation (ENSURE-AF): a randomised, open-label, phase 3b trial. Lancet 2016; 388: 1995–2003—The author list of this Article has been updated to include the ENSURE-AF investigators. In the first sentence in summary, “well controlled enoxaparin-warfarin therapy” should have read “well controlled warfarin therapy”. The webappendix of this Article has also been corrected. These corrections have been made to the online version as of Oct 20, 2016, and the printed Article is correct.

Charlson FJ, Baxter AJ, Cheng HG, et al. The burden of mental, neurological, and substance use disorders in China and India: a systematic analysis of community representative epidemiological studies. Lancet 2016; 388: 376–89—In table 2 of this Article, the column header data for the first column should read “2013 DALYs (95% UI)” and for the second column should read “2025 DALYs (95% UI)”, “(thousands)” has been deleted and uncertainty interval has been abbreviated to UI. This correction has been made to the online version as of Oct 20, 2016.
